DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-26 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 10, the prior art of record does not teach nor suggest, in the claimed combination, an electromagnetic switching device with a solenoid coil, a movable iron core, a first yoke disposed at one end of the solenoid coil and comprising an insertion hole, and a second yoke disposed at another end of the solenoid coil; a pair of fixed terminals, each with a fixed contact point, a movable contact, first and second springs disposed between the movable contact and the first yoke, one of the first and second springs being stronger than the other a shaft with a retentive part at one end thereof that retains the movable contact, the shaft being inserted through the insertion hole of the first yoke and being fixed to the movable iron core at another end thereof; and an enclosure which encloses the fixed and movable contact points in a substantially sealed space formed between the enclosure and the first yoke.

Claim 19, the prior art of record does not teach nor suggest, in the claimed combination, an electromagnetic switching device with an enclosure which encloses the movable and fixed contact points, a body which surrounds the electromagnetic actuator and enclosure; and a potting compound which fills a space between the body and the enclosure, wherein the pair of movable contact points contact and separate from the fixed contact points by movement of the shaft by moving the movable iron core along an axis of the electromagnetic actuator, and the movable contact points and the fixed
